The 4-10 record of the 1971 Eagles seems to indicate a disappointing season. But with only six starters off last year's team, the Eagles were rebuilding this year. In spite of the injuries and illnesses which took their toll on the team, a grand effort was put forth all season and two players, Woody Smith and Silo Ruscheinski were named all-conference players.

Most Valuable Player: Woody Smith

Most Improved Player: Mike Schier

intramurals

INTRAMURAL INDOOR HOCKEY - which was short lived because of the injuries it produced and the marks left on the floor!

The Judson College Eagles lost their JV team to the Varsity when a lack of players required the two teams to become one. Although the ballclub was not very big and was a little shallow in depth, they proved to be great hustlers. Jay Hagstrom proved to be a pleasant surprise by hauling in 101 rebounds and scoring 69 points. With substitutions of Wes Williams in rebounding, Chris Lloyds hustling, and the guarding of Steve Herington and Mark Wiseman, the JV team proved to be of great resourcefulness to the team as a whole.

Moliere's TARTUFFE

Directed by

James D. Cramer

A satire written in 1667
...people in the established church incensed by those who strove to live devoutly religious lives. Those people sought a ban on the play... Louis XIV two years later allowed the performances to resume. Moliere did not make clear that he was poking fun not at "true religious piety" but at sham and pretense. He could not abide the sort of person who "played the prude" in order to find occasion to scold others for the pleasures which he secretly wished he were still young enough to indulge in. In TARTUFFE the contemporary bigot can find comfort. (JDC)
